

Chatiquette: Good manners at Values4Europe

This website is a place where you can share your thoughts, discuss controversies and express yourself freely. Never the less, we still need you to follow a certain set of etiquette rules, in order to keep the conversations objective and open-minded, so that new ideas about Europe can thrive.

- Treat the other users with respect and tolerance.
- Racist or any other kind of discriminating comments and expressions as well as insults and personal attacks will not be tolerated.
- Keep the conversations factual and try to be friendly and helpful towards other users.
- Posting of advertisements and commercial promotion are not permitted.
- Pornographic content of any kind is strictly forbidden.
- In case of violation of these rules, we will delete the posting and further block users from the chat.